Unlike an open-ended mutual fund, a closed-end fund (CEF) offers a fixed number of shares for sale. After the initial public offering, shares are bought and sold in the secondary marketplace and the market price of the shares is determined by supply and demand, not by net asset value.

The distribution rate is the most recent distribution per share annualized and dividend by the previous day's closing share price. The distribution rate may include net investment income, capital gains and/or return of capital.

Important Information Regarding This Report

Fixed income securities are subject to increased loss of principal during periods of rising interest rates.

Lower rated securities are subject to greater credit risk, default risk, and liquidity risk.

International investing involves special risks such as currency fluctuation and political instability. Investing in emerging markets may accentuate these risks. Small cap funds are subject to greater volatility than those in other asset categories. Due to the limited focus of sector funds, they may experience greater volatility than funds with a broader investment strategy.

SEC yield is the net investment income earned by a mutual fund over a 30-day period. The 30-day SEC Yield is expressed as an annual percentage rate based on the fund's share price. It is calculated by dividing the net investment income per share for the 30 days ended on the date of calculation by the maximum offering price per share on that date.

This Mutual Fund Report Card is informational in nature and is not a recommendation or solicitation for any person to buy, sell or hold any particular security; nor is it intended to address any individual's investment objectives, financial situation or personal circumstances. We recommend that investors define their goals, risk tolerance, time horizon and investment objective in addition to researching possible investment choices.

Tax Cost Ratio represents the percentage-point reduction in returns that results from Federal income taxes (before shares in the fund are sold, and assuming the highest Federal tax bracket).
